IP rights, in particular patent documents, contain a wealth of information on companies and technologies. This data is open to all and can be used for research purposes. We are happy to support you with our search products.

Learn more about our patent searches.
Before applying to register your trade mark, you should carry out a search to check that you are not infringing any third party rights. Otherwise, you run the risk that your trade mark will be cancelled.

Find out more about our trade mark searches.
We offer high-quality worldwide patent and trade mark searches under the ip-search label.

Customised patent and technology searches
Professional trade mark searches